Section I

Dream On Rockers!

Your dream is your birthright, and it begins with creating a vivid vision of that dream. These tweets will help you gain clarity on your dream, while creating a foundation for pursuing it.

Enlightened Inspiration from a Rock and Roll Guru

You can only live your dream if you have a crystal-clear vision of that dream.

2

Once you have a clear vision, you must release the attachment to how you think it's supposed to manifest and trust the universal forces.

3

Be specific in creating your dream.
Clarity provides tremendous power.

4

Clarity regarding your dream allows you to create vivid mental pictures and the corresponding positive emotions.

Section III

Love is Always the Answer

Your dream can and will be achieved when you infuse it with love. Love is the joyful expression of your heart's deepest desires, and it will draw your dream into the present moment with staggering speed. Ponder the following thoughts as you bathe your dream in love.

Imbue everything you do with the joyful light of your love and you will attract your dream as if you are a magnet.

45

You can live from love or you can live from fear, but you cannot do both. Your dream will manifest only when you live from love.

Section VI

Boys AND Girls Wanna Have Fun!

Cyndi Lauper eloquently espoused our desire to have fun in her classic song, and living your dream is supposed to be fun. As you read these tweets, consider how you can become more playful in order to enhance the fun quotient inherent in living your dream.

Take money out of the equation and pursue your dream simply because it's fun and puts a smile on your face.

Money will follow.

103

Dreams are supposed to be fun, and most people seem to think parties are fun. Ergo, living your dream is supposed to be a party. Logic 101.

104

You'll know you're living your dream when you're really having fun, but you know the fun is only just beginning.

Section VII

Living as a Dream Weaver

You were born to live as a dream weaver. Living your dream requires all the rock & roll mojo you can muster, incorporating your belief, love, passion, inspiration, imagination, and creativity in a manner that is fantabulously fun. Following are some ideas you can employ right now to begin living your dream.

Living your dream requires embracing failure as a learning experience.

110

Living your dream means ignoring or avoiding the critics, naysayers, and energy vampires.

111

Living your dream means groovin' on the journey, irrespective of the outcome.
Make the journey the dream.

About the Author

Joe Heuer is known worldwide as the Rock and Roll Guru (<http://RockandRollGuru.com>). An entertaining speaker, author and full-time rocker, he shares the nuggets of wisdom he has gleaned from rock & roll with professional audiences throughout this third rock from the sun.

Joe believes that in addition to being a groovy musical genre, rock & roll is a way of life that has served as his constant companion and inspiration. He has lived numerous dreams, including a stint as the youngest collegiate head basketball coach in the country...who never played the game.

He has written several books, some of which have actually been published. Recent titles include ‘The Rock and Roll Guide to Customer Loyalty’ and ‘The Rock and Roll Guide to Patient Loyalty.’ He also has several rock & roll books in the works.

His wife calls him an idiot savant for his uncanny recall of obscure rock & roll lyrics and trivia.
